Featured Writer Friday

Thank you for your interest in Featured Writer Friday.

The purpose of Featured Writer Friday series is to share your blogging and writing experience. It is not to promote a product that you want to sell. Sorry. If you want to promote your product, please check out these guidelines.

FWF Guidelines

- This is the only stipulation. You must follow me on Twitter.
- Well, I guess this is stipulation number two - Links to the product(s) that you want to sell are not allowed. Not gonna happen. In other words that means - NO AFFILIATE LINKS. I check every link and if I suspect that it is an affiliate link, I will wipe it clean or delete your post altogether.
- One link to your blog in the introduction of your post.
- Links to external sites are not allowed. Except for section 7. Links to tools, programs, or apps are okay. (but I will check them).
- Please add your blog and social media links to the end of the post (it's the last section).
- I need at least two images for your post. Please provide two quality .jpg sized to 600 x 400 and you must have the rights to publish these images.
- We are writers, so please no one line answers.

Here's a list of the questions. If you want to see what other writers are doing, check out Angelah Starr's post. She nailed it.

Start with an introduction
